Our Goals

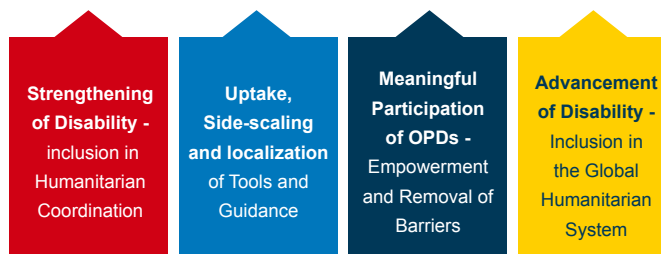

Persons with disabilities, representing 1.3 billion people worldwide, are among those most at risk during and after a humanitarian crisis. Environmental, institutional, attitudinal and communication barriers prevent them from accessing humanitarian assistance and participating meaningfully in the response and coordination. We want to ensure that persons with disabilities can meaningfully participate and have equal access to life-saving assistance and protection so that no one is left behind!

Since 2016, the Leave no one behind! project series focuses on mainstreaming disability in humanitarian action through capacity strengthening, inter-agency tool development, research, collecting and sharing of evidence, strengthening of local level expertise and empowering persons with disabilities and OPDs. The cornerstone of our work are the Inter-Agency Standing Committee's (IASC) Guidelines on the Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action - the first system-wide globally accepted guidelines on disability-inclusive humanitarian action. Phase 4 aims to enable the uptake of the IASC Guidelines for lasting impact through side-scaling, localization and global advocacy.

Phase 4 (2025-2027) builds on the achievements and lessons learnt from the previous project phases and aims to further advance the integration of disability-inclusion into the humanitarian system at all levels. At the global level, the focus is on inter-agency collaboration and advocacy. At regional and local level, we continue and extend the work in Somalia & Somaliland, South Sudan, Uganda, Niger, Nigeria and Cameroon with an additional regional approach.
